

The Commonwealth Difference

Dedicated Support
Independent Financial Advisors
Need to Serve Their Clients

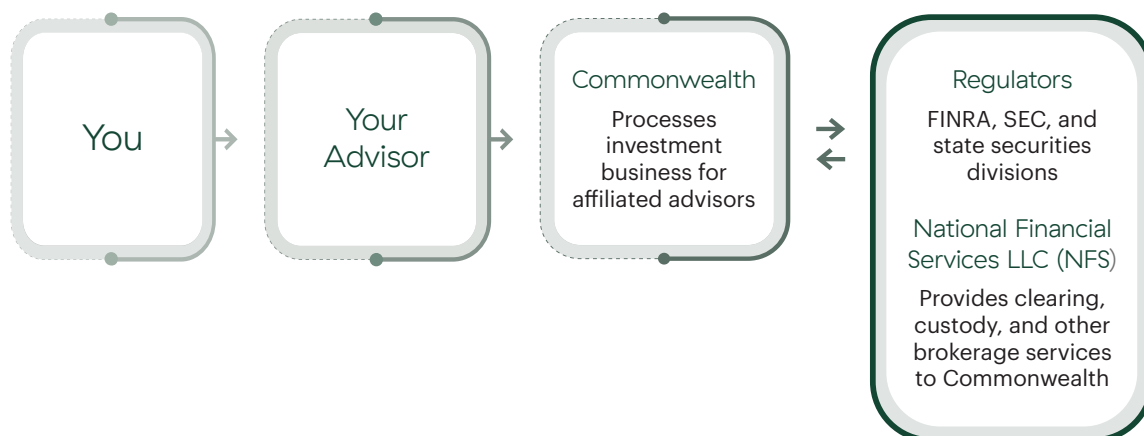

A Partnership Built on Service

Commonwealth Financial Network® is a Registered Investment Adviser–broker/dealer that provides business solutions to independent financial advisors. In addition to processing investment transactions on your behalf, we offer your advisor a unique mix of tools and support, which allows them to run their practice efficiently and spend more time focused on you.

We're also independently owned and managed, so we don't answer to a parent company or shareholders. That means your advisor remains free to act in your best interest, doing everything they can to help you meet your financial goals.

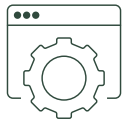

How We Help Your Advisor Help You

Commonwealth was founded with a mission to help advisors do whatever it takes to serve their clients. The infrastructure we've built—and our always expanding wealth of resources—makes it easier for your advisor to provide you with the best possible guidance and the prompt, personal service you expect and deserve.

Investment choice. Your financial objectives, personal investment style, and risk tolerance are the only criteria that should influence the recommendations your advisor makes. By providing access to a wide universe of investment vehicles and truly independent research, we help ensure that your advisor has the freedom to operate in your best interest.

Technology. Our sister firm, Advisor360,[®] delivers a technology platform that is a critical component in helping your advisor provide you with first-class service and support. With integrated web-based systems in place, we can help your advisor efficiently manage your portfolio and your overall financial picture by:

- Providing 24/7 access to your investment information and to worldwide financial markets
- Helping free them from repetitive tasks, so they have more time to focus on you and your financial goals
- Streamlining all their processes and boosting the speed and accuracy with which they transact your business
- Giving them the option to allow you to view the same portfolio information they see—plus data from your accounts not held with us—so you can become a more informed investor

Expertise. Our wealth management team consists of specialists with a wide range of experience covering estate planning, taxation, risk management, business planning, and retirement planning. However complex your needs, your advisor can tap into the capabilities of some of the most knowledgeable people in the industry.

Service. We focus on supplying your advisor with everything they need at every level, so they, in turn, can do the same for you. Giving them regular access to the firm's senior leadership team—which maintains a hands-on approach to day-to-day operations—ensures that your advisor's voice is always heard.

Research. We offer institutional-quality research from an in-house group of seasoned specialists who deliver everything from in-depth, impartial analysis of the market and economy to asset allocation and portfolio construction recommendations. That way, your advisor is well equipped to make the best investment decisions on your behalf.

Business consulting. We offer complimentary in-house support to help your advisor ensure that they're running the most efficient, client service-oriented business possible. It's one more way we aim to help them model their business to better respond to your needs.

Regulatory guidance. Our Legal and Compliance teams offer valuable expertise in today's complex regulatory climate. Your advisor relies on the guidance and advice these teams provide to help ensure that your investments—and their own business practices—remain in line with the financial industry's ever-changing rules and regulations.

A Reputation for Results

Since 1979, Commonwealth has been delivering the tools and services advisors need to do what's best for their clients. Today, we support more than 2,000 independent financial advisors, who, in turn, serve nearly 400,000 individuals and families.

Although you may not be familiar with the name—because we don't promote ourselves to the general public—we enjoy a stellar reputation among financial advisors.

We also commit ourselves to protecting your privacy and ensuring that your investment data remains secure. Because of the encryption standards, disaster recovery plans, and other measures we employ, you can be confident that the information you entrust to your advisor will remain secure.

Consistently Doing the Right Thing

For more than 40 years, we've dedicated ourselves to doing whatever it takes to do well by our advisors, so they can do well by you.

It all begins with fostering an environment where people are passionate about what they do and love coming to work every day. It's no surprise that we're committed to maintaining a Best Place to Work environment—something we've been recognized for more than 40 times by leading publications, including the Boston Globe, Boston Business Journal, San Diego Business Journal, San Diego Union-Tribune, and Computerworld.

And our pledge to do the right thing also extends to the community at large. Our charitable foundation, Commonwealth Cares, directly supports a wide range of local and global causes and facilitates philanthropic giving to organizations that are meaningful to our employees, advisors, and their clients.

This philosophy translates into unparalleled support from an extraordinary group that works every day to make a difference in the success of our advisors—and in the level of service and value they offer you. And it's why so many advisors have chosen to become part of our community and rely on the dedicated support we provide, every single day.
